

Pathways For Veterans Pilot Study

Overview

The Pathways pilot studies are holistic in design. The RestStation™ Lounge is used in conjunction with Scalar Wave Technology and is provided through Quantum Sound Technologies. By creating a safe environment that supports veterans to relax while listening to Pathways “At ease Reset Listening Protocols” veterans are given the experience of “Peace of Mind”. This experience enables them to release their anxiety that creates their stress. The science on stress is well documented and is, one of the number one causes, of disease. Untreated, stress leads to insomnia and a whole host of other illnesses including PTSD.

RestStation™ is a gateway that enables veterans to open their mind and body to new possibilities in their life through enhanced relaxation. Once their Gateway opens, the “Pathways Curriculum for living” focuses on how they can view their life from their new perspective. The pilot study is designed for them to reflect on how they view their emotions, patterns of behavior, and thoughts, thru their existing filters allowing them to see themselves, in a different way. The pilot study program is designed for them to start on a journey of self examination that leads them to a new perspective creating new possibilities in order to reach their full potential - to embrace while honoring their past without letting their past experiences negatively influence their potential future selves.
